Global Intentions

Bill Kiehl has published a new book:

GLOBAL INTENTIONS LOCAL RESULTS:

How Colleges Can Create International Communities

$19.95 274 pages, illustrations ISBN 978-14404 02319

The book is an in-depth look at the influence of campus internationalization on local communities. Case studies at three small colleges in three small communities in Pennsylvania illustrate colleges faced challenges to bring the world to their communities. Is there an influence on the local community stemming from efforts to internationalize the campus? And if so, what is the higher education and the relationship between colleges and communities? Given the importance placed on higher education internationalization by the federal government, the findings will point to further suggestions for research.

By special arrangement with the publisher Bill is able to make his new book available to University of Scranton alumni at a discount off the list price of $19.95. In order to obtain the book for $15.99. This is the best price available for individual orders.
